HAMRICK STEPS DOWN

Action on the vote of the Baptist College's Board of Trustees October 25, 1983, resulted in notification of immediate changes in the college's top administrative offices.

Dr. John A. Hamrick and his vice presidents, E. Harold Keown, Sr. and Charles L. Price, and E. Harold Keown, Jr., assistant vice president for student affairs, were given notice that the Board had made sweeping decisions.

The board requested Hamrick's retirement within ten days. "To become effective no later than January 1, 1984", and the others were instructed that their dismissal was effective immediately, as of 5 p.m. that day.

The Board's dissatisfaction focused primarily on two areas--financial management and the president's choice of administrative assistants.

The trustees brought no charges against Hamrick or the three administrative aides. A board committee had been appointed earlier in the year to investigate areas of concern. Chairman Douglas N. Baker of Greenville said the trustees had told the president of their displeasure with some of his ranking assistants. "Several of us (board members) had urged him to make changes, which he had ignored," Baker said. Thus, in executive session, October 25, the board acted first on a motion to request the president's retirement. The 23 trustees present stood in a unanimous vote. The second vote on dismissal of the three administrators also was unanimous.

REFLECTIONS

Reflections is the title of a newly-published small volume of the memories of a pastor's wife. Carol Wall Horltdt of Mt. Pleasant, a 1972 graduate of Baptist College, is widow of the late Dr. Wilbur C. Horltdt.

Dr. Horltdt was instrumental in the 1950's and 1960's in laying ground work for the beginnings of Baptist College at Charleston--then known as "The Baptist Junior College of Lower South Carolina."

The college gave recognition to him in 1972 by way of the honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree, pointing to the fact he had served from 1954 until 1973 as Superintendent of Missions in the Charleston Association, as well as having been a tireless worker in behalf of the "new college."

Mrs. Horltdt's book is the story of their life together, and contains as well a collection of verses she has written for herself over the years and as illustration for her Sunday School Class at Citadel Square Baptist Church. There are also gleanings from both her own and from Dr. Horltdt's scrapbook of materials they used in preaching, teaching, counseling, and child-rearing.

Copies of Mrs. Horltdt's books are available by writing The Baptist Building, Rutledge Avenue, Charleston, S.C. 29401. The cost $10 per copy.

STALEY LECTURES MARCH 12, 13 & 14

Dr. George K. Schweitzer will lecture March 12, 13, 14 at Baptist College. His four topics for discussion are "The Creation-Evolution Controversy", "Life on Other Planets", "The Jesus Event" and "The Cosmic Drama". Dr. Schweitzer is the alumni distinguished service professor of Chemistry at the University of Tennessee, in Knoxville.

"THE SKY'S THE LIMIT" was the theme for the 1983 Fall Orientation for BCC incoming students. The R.C. Cola hot air balloon was on campus during orientation.

The board had for some time insisted on more conservative financial operations. Hamrick strongly defended his management policy, pointing to a $70,000 operating surplus for the fiscal year which ended May 31. He admitted, however, that the college had been short almost $500,000 for the previous year's operations. The current operating budget is $10 million. Total college assets are $24 million, against which the college owes $11 million. Endowment is less than $1 million.

At a later meeting the Board named Dr. John A. Fincher acting president. Dr. Fincher, president emeritus of Carson-Newman College, Jefferson City, Tenn., and for the past year interim vice president for academic affairs, holds a Ph.D. in Zoology from the University of North Carolina.

At the same time, the Board's Executive Committee moved Dr. R. David Hodge to the position of acting vice president for Development. Dr. Hodge has been with Baptist College since 1973, serving as assistant vice president to development and special projects.

Dr. Fincher announced January 10 that he had been authorized to appoint Dr. A.K. Bonnette as assistant vice president for academic affairs and acting academic dean, to serve until a new college president takes office. Dr. Bonnette has been a member of the faculty in the chemistry department since 1971. He will continue as chairman of the Steering Committee for the College's Self Study.

NEW FACES IN BCC OFFICES

Dr. Paul Alverson, former adjunct professor of religion is interim dean of student development; Donald R. Eubanks, formerly of Eubanks Travel Agency, Charleston, director of student activities; Bennett M. Waitt, Summerville, returns to the college as director of church and denominational relations; Julie Richburg, formerly on the staff of the Governor of South Carolina's office of grants and contracts is BCC's director of grants and contracts in the development office.

Ron Gaskins, formerly of Trident Technical College, Charleston is the new Registrar.

GRAD GOES TO HOLLYWOOD

"Dynasty," "Fantasy Island," "Chips," "The Young and Restless"...who hasn't watched at least one of these programs? BCC alumnus Doug Shanklin can say even more! He has played roles in each of these shows...Lt. Hawkins on "Chips," Thibedaux on "240 Robert," and Lucas on "The Young and the Restless."

Doug appeared in a co-starring role with Juliet Prowse on a fall episode of "Fantasy Island." The part was cast to be a mix of Robert Redford, Burt Reynolds and Tom Selleck which Doug won out over a multitude of other very desirable "prototypes"; obviously he is on the way to setting a new standard of male. Robon Leppin, casting director for "Fantasy Island" said, "We were looking for an extremely good-looking male and found him."

Strikingly handsome and athletic, the 6'5" blue-eyed blonde is having a hard time keeping up with his fan mail.

Doug attended Baptist College on a four-year basketball scholarship from 1969 to 1973, receiving many awards. He finished with a B.A. degree in Speech and Dramatic Arts. Doug attributes a great deal of his early training to Dr. Larry Vanella, head of the Speech and Dramatic Arts Department. Doug says, "It was under Dr. Vanella's direction that I fell in love with acting."

Doug is married to actress Marilyn Mitchell, and they share a loving and enthusiastic relationship and three year old son, Christian Adam, at their home in Beverly Hills. Husband and wife would ultimately enjoy a co-starring role.

COME GROW WITH US

In the first fall meeting of the Alumni Association, many important matters were discussed. The association has agreed to buy a pew for our new chapel. The pew will have a plaque with the name of the Alumni Association on it. This has encouraged other Alumni to do the same in helping make our chapel complete.

Our membership has increased this year and we would like to see it grow even more. As you can see by our magazine, many new and exciting changes are taking place at Baptist College. We would like to offer you the opportunity of becoming a part of these changes.

All alumni are invited to attend our meetings, which are held on the third Sunday of each month at 2:30 p.m. in the Board Room in Jones Hall. Join today by sending your name, address and year of graduation, along with a $10.00 membership fee to: Bob Riley, Director of Alumni Affairs, BCC, Charleston, S.C. 29411.

COME GROW WITH US!!!!

MIKE FROST (69) participated this spring in the March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon to raise funds for The Southland Corporation's nationwide collection for March of Dimes. He carried a child on his back along the 25 kilometers of the Virginia Beach Walk to enable the child to raise pledges. Mike is a Division Manager for 7 Eleven Food Stores in Virginia Beach, Virginia.

ALUMNI EMPHASIS DAY

April 11, 1984 has been designated as Alumni Emphasis Day. We are in the process now of securing a speaker for the convocation that day.

There will be a luncheon to honor all graduating seniors on this day. Plan now to come and support the alumni association and have lunch in the renovated cafeteria. The food has never been better and you will be surprised at the changes that have been made in the cafeteria.

Coming Soon... SPRING FLING '84

Reserve May 5th now and plan to attend Spring Fling '84. If you have missed the past Spring Flings don't miss your opportunity now.

We will be honoring the class of 1974. Wouldn't you like to see your old roommate or your sorority sister or fraternity brother. Then come for a time of fellowship, food and fun and more at the Spring Fling '84.

More Information Coming Soon!

BCC GRAD DIES IN CAR ACCIDENT

DIANNE CULPEPPER (80) died January 15, 1984 after an automobile accident. Miss Culpepper was born in Walterboro, a daughter of C D Culpepper and Margaret Hott Culpepper. She was a member of The Body of Christ and attended The Citadel after graduating from Baptist College. She was a teacher at Hampton Street and Forest Hills Schools.

JOB OPENING - F.B.I.

The Baptist College Placement Office has recently been contacted by local agents about openings with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The process requires an application, test, and group interview.

Candidates for special agent must be at least twenty-three years old and in good health, with college majors preferably in Law, Accounting, Language or Science. The starting salary is excellent.

If you are interested in pursuing a career with the F.B.I., please contact Mr. Roger N. Amrol, A.S.A.C., Federal Bureau of Investigation, Columbia, South Carolina, (736-2770).

Please feel free to contact the Counseling/Placement Office if you have any questions or concerns about your current job situation.

Riley named ALUMNI DIRECTOR....

BCC alumnus Bob Riley ('80) has been named to a new post at Baptist College. He is the college's first Director of Alumni Affairs.

With the rapid growth of BCC graduates, the college foresaw a need for a full time person to direct all alumni affairs and serve as liaison between the alumni, alumni board and the college administration.

A Summerville resident, Riley is also a 1983 graduate of South-eastern Baptist Theological Seminary. He holds a Master of Divinity Degree with an emphasis in religious education. Married to the former Anne Gignilliat, a Winthrop graduate. They have one son, Ryan, who is 8 years old. They attend Summerville Baptist Church.

In his new post, Riley says he will strive for better communications and an improved relationship between BCC alumni and the administration.

"I plan to make a concerted effort to keep track of all BCC alumni," says Riley, "because we, at the college, care about our grads and want to share in their accomplishments and promote their achievements."

One of Riley's duties will be to produce and distribute the alumni newsletter. He requests that any BCC grad not receiving alumni mail from Baptist College to contact him by phoning (803) 797-4229 or write in care of BCC, Charleston, S.C. 29411.

In addition to his office duties on campus, Riley is also willing to meet with groups of grads outside the Charleston area and help them establish a BCC alumni chapter in their city.

AEDP GRADUATE HONORED

AEDP ACCELERATED EVENING DEGREE PROGRAM. . . . Its name says it all! The program is one in which persons can receive a degree in four years, if desired, by attending only evening classes. Acceleration is indicated by the fact that most of the students enrolled in this program hold full-time employment positions while completing their education.

EVENING PROGRAM. . . . After a full day's work, a person attends classes on several evenings each week. The time period in which a degree can be obtained is controlled by the number of classes taken each semester.

Sounds tiring, doesn't it? Remember how difficult just four years as a full-time student was?

Multiply that difficulty with that of a full-time job (and often families), and you understand the feelings of the Evening and AEDP students at Baptist College.

Yet the reaching of long range goals is worth the hours spent in preparation as can be attested by Leroy E. Calhoun, Jr. Recently chosen "1983 Federal Employee of the Year" from 16,000 federal employees in the area, Mr. Calhoun attended Baptist College's Evening Program on his own time, after hours and at his own expense, for eight years. He received a Bachelor of Science Degree with a major in Business Administration with emphasis in management.

A 1981 graduate, he is now head of the Technical Support Division of the Inspection Department and provides Metrology (Calibration) technical services to the Polaris Missile Facility and the Naval Weapons Station.

AEDP and Evening Programs are only two of the many programs Baptist College at Charleston is offering to residents of the lowcountry in its attempt to provide quality education to all who desire it.

DORMS TO REPLACE TRAILERS

OUR PROGRESS REFLECTS YOUR SUPPORT

The Buccaneer Club of Baptist College is committed to the support of a quality college athletic program. It is with your help and financial assistance that this can be obtained.

The club purpose is to provide a financial base to give supplemental support to the athletic programs above the normal operating budget and to promote the goals and excellence of the fine athletic program at Baptist College. With your enthusiastic support we have made tremendous improvements that benefit not only athletics, but all our students.

By becoming a patron of the Buccaneer Club, you could help insure that our college's athletic teams will continue to be competitive. Many Buc Club members have expressed their pride by joining the Buc Club. Don't be left out, join your friends, alumni, and neighbors to help make 1984-85 the best year ever for Baptist College athletics and the Buccaneer Club.

BCC ALUMNI

There is a subtle change in the atmosphere at the Baptist College Printshop that speaks of a fresh, new influence from behind the manager's desk.

Lloyd Lien has come home. Lien, a 1974 BCC graduate, is realizing an ambition he entertained nearly ten years ago when he first dreamed of someday returning to Baptist College to be in charge of the printshop. "I've always wanted to be where I could help build an image, through printing, of the way I feel about Baptist College," he confesses. His ambition is already producing results.

Returning to Baptist College to be a part of the ongoing development of the school that means so much to him is a definite answer to prayer, he says. "God brought me here. I have always wanted to be where the Lord wanted me to be, and I have hoped it would be to come back here to work."

The smiles on the faces that bend over the typesetters, the presses and the collators are pretty good signs that the work produced in the Baptist College Printshop will be showing the Right Image, day by day.

FOLLOWING THE POLITICAL SCENE

From a student at Berkeley High School to President of the S.C. Young Democrats, Jerome Smalls, a 1982 alumnus, has had more doors opened to him than an average person has in an entire lifetime. For Jerome, those opportunities started arriving when he became involved with the Young Democrats, a club that gives young people a chance to avenue their talents within the Democratic party.

"At first I was only active with the club on Baptist College campus, and then I began traveling around the state to many functions sponsored by the Young Democrats. I found myself becoming more and more involved in the organization, and I loved it," said Jerome. As time passed, he became third vice president for college affairs, district coordinator, and was executive vice president for two consecutive terms.

Optimistic by nature, Jerome always thought things could be a little better. So during his senior year at Baptist College, he announced that he would be seeking the presidency of the S.C. Young Democrats.

Jerome worked hard and reached his goal, winning the election by a 3 to 1 margin. Then the time came for him to take over the responsibilities that came along with the title. A lot of traveling and speech making came with the new title, not to mention the necessary studying time in order to graduate from college in May. Jerome had the duty of representing the Young Democrats in ten neighboring states, as well as South Carolina.

During Jerome's year as president of the Young Democrats, he and Governor Richard Riley became very close friends. Jerome had the opportunity to travel with the governor on speaking engagements at college campuses. And due partly to Jerome's hard campaign work for the gubernatorial race in November of 1982, Governor Riley was re-elected to serve another term.

Even though he is no longer president of the Young Democrats, that doesn't mean Jerome has stepped out of politics completely. For himself, Jerome is seeking bigger and better offices such as a seat in the House of Representatives and maybe some day in the U.S. Senate. As Jerome points out, "Right now my goals seem to be far off, in the distance, and impossible, but then so was my goal of becoming President of the S.C. Young Democrats."

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Yost, formerly of the Baptist College faculty and staff (he was chairman of the music department; she was college nurse) have returned to the Philippines. The Yosts returned to their home in Summerville last summer when Mr. Yost was advised to return to this country for medical care. He returns to his post with the Foreign Mission Department with a clean bill of health.

Art on Display

Some twenty five paintings by Hugh Sprott III, a 1979 art major graduate of Baptist College, will go on exhibition April 2, as a part of Erskine College's (Due West, SC) on-going exhibitions. A reception at the Art Center when Sprott will be introduced to the college and community, will also be the occasion for unveiling of one special work which is commemorative of the nation's space programs.

Sprott's artform is an unusual one in that he uses cancelled postage stamps with which to "paint" his designs. He uses some three to five hundred stamps per work. He has been featured in the pages of National Stamp News and was one of the winners in a state competition last year.

The showing at Erskine will be open throughout April.

CHAPEL DEDICATION

Planning for a week-long dedication is now in progress for the new Lightsey Chapel-Auditorium.

Mid-October 1984 is the tentative date for our celebration. There are many exciting plans including, possibly, an organ recital, a dramatic production, a major choral concert and many other things.

We will share more of these plans as they are confirmed. Come by and see the progress that has been made on the chapel.

The music building which is connected to the rear of the chapel is also progressing nicely.

NEW COACHES LEAD BUCCANEERS BASKETBALL

Tommy Gaither becomes the eighth coach in the eighteen year history of Baptist College, taking over the reins as head basketball coach, while Frank Pollock, a 27 year old native of Columbia, S.C., has been named assistant basketball coach.

Gaither comes to Baptist College from Gardner-Webb College in Boiling Springs, N.C., to take over the coaching position that was vacated on March 28 by Phil Carter. Carter, in his three year tenure at Baptist, turned a floundering program into a respectable force in NCAA Division I basketball. Carter had a combined three year record of 34 wins and 46 losses along with the respect the program so badly needed.

Gaither, who was an associate coach at Gardner-Webb College, will be the first coach in over a decade to be in a situation to maintain a respectable status and a winning tradition at Baptist College. But for a program that has not had a coach to remain over four seasons, Gaither's attitude toward the job is to get it done. "I've been coaching now for fifteen years, and I don't intend to leave here until the job is finished," Gaither said. "I have no time table set, but we will have a winner here."

Gaither and Pollock have begun plotting their strategies and now are setting priorities. "Our first priority is to evaluate the present talent and then recruit quality student -athletes to fill in. We want players who will excel in the classroom as well as on the court, and we will recruit players with the proper character to be winners."

Pollock will assist Gaither in coaching duties as well as recruiting at Baptist College.

OLIVER L. BARNES TERMINATED

Acting on instructions from the official Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of Baptist College, Dr. John A. Fincher, acting president, terminated Oliver L. Barnes, Vice President for Business Affairs on February 13.

Citing "conduct unbecoming to a member of the Baptist College family", the Board took action based on a number of complaints that had been lodged against Barnes.

Barnes, formerly of the Business Administration faculty, had held the position of Vice President for Business Affairs for three years following the resignation of David Stone, who had served in that position for several years.

Mr. Barnes' departure from a key position resulted in a temporary assignment of that responsibility to Royce Breland, III., who has worked in the Business Department as Controller since 1977.

ALUMNI SPONSORED SCHOLARSHIPS Help BCC Students Today

SCHOLARSHIPS. . .without them many students would be unable to complete their undergraduate education. Along with grants, loans, and work-study, they complete the financial aid "package" Baptist College is able to offer prospective students.

New scholarships have recently been established by or in memory of Baptist College alumni.

A music scholarship in the sum of $100.00 per semester has been established by alumnus Bobby Babson in honor of his father, Horace Lee Babson, Sr. This award will be presented to a deserving student each year who is majoring in some area of the music department.

The Alumni Association has created a scholarship in the amount of $500.00 per year in memory of Board member, James Blair. This scholarship will be awarded to a student who is in need of financial aid to realize a goal of quality education.

Marion Busch, a 1971 graduate, became the first alumnus to become a member of The President's Club by making a pledge of $10,000.00.

REMEMBER how financial aid and scholarships helped you complete your studies at Baptist College? You can help another student today by creating a scholarship in any amount for study in any department at Baptist College. Contact Bill Koopman in the Development Office (797-4737) for assistance in setting up your scholarship.

FIRST ANNUAL ALUMNI FUND DRIVE

The first annual alumni fund drive is scheduled for March 10 and 11. The Alumni Board decided to launch a major fund drive to raise money for our Alma Mater. Our goal is $25,000.

We will be using a telethon where we will be contacting each of our alumni and asking their financial support.

We look forward to talking to you in March.

JOHN RAMSEY NAMED PRESIDENT OF PLYWOOD CO.

John Ramsey, vice president and general manager of Diamond Hill Plywood Company, has been elected to the position of president and general manager, effective January 1.

Mr. Ramsey has been with the Diamond Hill home office in Darlington since 1979, transferring from the Greensboro, North Carolina, office where he served as assistant branch manager. He joined Diamond Hill in 1973 after receiving his B.S. degree from Baptist College at Charleston. John succeeds Mr. Jack Ramsey, who assumes the position of chairman of the board.

COURAGE THROUGH FAITH

by Margaret Gilmore

In life's crucible situations, Christians are as vulnerable to discouragement, pain and doubt as unbelievers. The difference, Hal Ritter believes, is in finding God provides courage to face up to learning that the world isn't necessarily a safe place or always fair, just because we are "good people".

Ritter, Class of 1971, recovering from an automobile accident that occurred May 11, 1983, was on the Baptist College campus early in January, checking on his alma mater, and reveling in the fact he is alive to do so. Visiting his parents in Summerville at the beginning of 1984 marked a major milestone for the young man whose life was all but given up several times last year. Critically injured, he suffered spinal and brain damage, and multiple broken bones. His life hung in the balance for several days.

Married and with two children, Ritter's family has survived many shocks and adjustments. The accident remains to him something of a philosophical as well as a physical puzzle.

"At first I said, 'Why me, God?'. Because I was doing the Lord's work and it seemed unfair that such a thing would happen at a point when I was about to begin a new level of service. I was in the final stages of work toward a Ph.D. in Religious Education, and suddenly I was stopped in my tracks. For awhile it appeared I would never walk again, let alone see, and I had misgivings about my mental capabilities. My faith was shaken. I admit that.

"There are people who have said God allowed this so something good could happen. I don't believe that. I don't believe God has to hurt people to teach good things. I believe Christians live in the same world with the same dangers as unbelievers, and bad things happen because they happen, not because God needs to hurt somebody to make a point."

Ritter quotes Dr. John R. Claypool, and remarks that "a gradual infusion of courage was a marvelous miracle to him," and saying Claypool's contention that "life is a series of events to be lived through, and that courage is ten times more important than any answer that tries to explain it all." is in essence what he has learned.

Campus personnel who remember Ritter as a student recall he was always somewhat "apart from the crowd". He was one of the first religion majors to grow a beard, and he was elected chaplain for the Afro-American Society on campus--the first and only white to have been a member of a club organized by black students. He wrote a regular column for the student newspaper, The Buc n Print, and his comments on the religious life of the campus were as distinctly Ritter as was the personality behind the pen.

He is, he says, "a willing student" of life. This spring he is undertaking final work preparatory to his comprehensives in March, 1984. His dissertation, on the Book of Romans will be done at Baylor University in Waco, Texas.

Ritter's return to a full participation in life will be gradual. He has, he says, "taken the examination". Life's lessons are far more well defined for him now, having come through a very dark valley. After awhile, he hopes he will overcome the double vision difficulties and can discard the eye patch. He has indeed found the trial proved his spirit stronger than he thought. He may always walk with a cane, but he will walk tall with the courage he learned in the crucible.

John Beasley, President of the Alumni Association has recently been named treasurer of the Baptist College Trading Company Inc. This is another vote of confidence by the Board of Trustees in the ability of alumni to take an active role in the affairs at Baptist College.
